May 17. 1840.

Dear Sir,

I took the liberty some time ago to address you on the Subject of a young Relative of mine, who was on the point of proceeding to Bonn, to profit of the Instruction at your celebrated and Excellent University . Since then Circumstances have occurred to render it unlikely that he will pursue that Intention: I have therefore only to make my apologies for any trouble I may have occasioned you. Will you allow me the profit of the opportunity which has offered, to beg you to accept a copy of these letters I have lately addressed to my old friend, the [2] Earl of Elgin on the Expediency of adopting the Greek in preference to the Gothic Style of Architecture for the new Home of Parliament now building in this metropolis ? And who to present the other Copy in my name to the Library of Your University.

Accept My dear Sir, the assurances of Regard & Esteem with which I have the honor to be Your very obedient humble Servant,

WRHamilton
